Crime waves have followed almost every war, and we have had sufficient warning that after the present conflict we can expect unprecedented lawlessness. Yet few communities have heeded the warning. In many cities the law enforcement agencies are helpless to function efficiently because of alliances between politicians and criminals. And there is another aspect of law enforcement which has received too little attention. Even strong enforcement agencies cannot fulfill their responsibility to the public unless they have the backing of the courts. There must be a more realistic attitude toward the Constitutional rights of criminals. The Constitution was never intended as a refuge for the guilty.

Two years ago, in Chicago, Edward Daminani, a criminal with a record of prior conviction for armed robbery, was again found guilty of the same crime. He was sentenced to the penitentiary. As often happens while an appeal was pending his bond was reduced by the court and he was released. Nine days later, armed with poison gas as well as guns, he and his associates held up a currency exchange in Chicago. The cashier, Angnes Olsen, a woman of 52, did not comply with the demands of the robbers speedily enough. Poison gas was released and she died.

It is time to give some thought to the rights of the Agnes Olsens as well as the Damianis. Damiani had his alleged rights preserved. But it cost the life of an innocent victim. Surely law-abiding people must be protected, too. The strained reasoning by which courts have sometimes freed lawbreakers would be humorous if the results were not so tragic to society.

In Illinois officers received information that in a passenger train in Cook County there were men who were illegally in possession of hen pheasants. The officers boarded the train. They saw pheasant feathers protruding from the pockets of Sigmond DeLuca. The officers searched him and found that he had four hen pheasants. DeLuca confessed to the officers that he had killed the birds.

Here was a perfect case—to everyone, that is, except the Illinois Supreme Court. The court held that, when the officers saw the pheasant feathers sticking out of DeLuca's pockets, they could not tell whether they were the feathers of hen pheasants or cock pheasants. Consequently, the officers had no reasonable ground for believing DeLuca was implicated in a crime. The search was, therefore, unreasonable and illegal. Evidence of guilt thus found was inadmissible. The conviction was reversed.

This case is unimportant. But such decisions pave the way for the immunity enjoyed by the hoodlums and thugs who endanger the security of the citizens in many communities. The pheasant-hen case can easily serve as a precedent to turn murderers loose.

Having progressed from the situation in colonial times, where criminals had few rights, we are approaching the equally untenable position that criminals are entitled to a good measure of predatory privileges. Social protection is the principal function of penal law, but the trend has been to place more and more emphasis on the rights of the individual criminal.

We pride ourselves on the strides we have made in the science of criminology. We have behavior clinics, psychologists, psychiatrists, sociologists, biologists and social workers to give expert aid and treatment to the individual after he is convicted of a crime. But only a small minority of criminals reach the experts for treatment. Because of legal technicalities that frequently benefit only the law violator, the odds are that the professional criminal, if arrested, will never go to trial, let alone be convicted.

Several weeks ago two Chicago police officers observed an automobile loaded with merchandise. The conduct of the occupants of the car aroused their suspicion. The policemen stopped the car and questioned the occupants. It developed that these men had just perpetrated a burglary, and that the car was loaded with several hundred dollars worth of stolen goods. When the case was heard in court, a motion to suppress (continued on page four)

Two Cameron Boys in Nurnberg Germany Meet After Years

Nurnberg, Germany, May 31, 1945.

Dear Mr. White: I would like to inform you about two local lads meeting. Cpl. June Smalley and Pfc. Arthur Cobb. Several days ago while in the sheet metal shop, June walked up to me asked where I was from, I knew him immediately. Although it has been 3 years since we have been together back in Yoe High School. We talked of the old days and of the fellows we knew, many of them won't return, and we shall miss them.

June came in the Army April of 1943. And overseas the following October. Having served twenty months in England, France, Belgium and Germany. June was serving with a B-26 Bomb Group, until he came to the 493rd Air Service Squadron which is attached to the 3rd Army.

Arthur came in the Army March 1943. Leaving for overseas the following December. Having served 19 months in England, France and Germany.

We have lived in hopes of meeting someone through the Herald. We knew of other Cameron boys over here, but could never locate any of them. As months went by each of us was losing hopes of meeting some of Cameron's boys, over here. Neither of us have ever met any other Cameron boy. So as you can imagine how glad we were to see a boy from home. We enclose a photo.

Two Cameron Boys,
Cpl. June Smalley,
Pfc. Arthur Cobb.

T-3 TONY ERMIS

T-3 Tony Ermis who fought under the banner of General George Patton and the 3rd U. S. Army, can tell a story of combat which began on invasion day a year ago.

T-3 Ermis is now near the Czech border where the famous 3rd Army ended its sensational campaign across Germany to reach to the mountains of Bavaria and the Czech country which T-3 Ermis described as beautiful in a letter recently received here by his father, Charlie Ermis.

Beginning his combat duties when the U. S. Third Army landed in France, T-3 Ermis fought through to Paris and beyond and although it is not yet known, he is believed to have taken part in the historic battle for the reduction of the great fortress of Metz.

In recent months he has written many letters to friends, sending words of good cheer and sometimes souvenirs. He spent some time in France. Right now he is enjoying a well earned respite from combat and friends here are hopeful he may return soon.

TOMATO MARKET HERE SERVING ALL TEXAS

The tomato market here was doing a brisk business.

Crates of luscious tomatoes are being shipped out by the thousands bearing the label "grown and packed in Milam county."

Foster Produce Company, opening their new packing sheds have handled a large volume of the crop. Mr. Foster says the tomatoes are excellent in quality this year.

Trucks are hauling the tomatoes to all parts of Texas and beyond the borders of the state. The price is good and farmers are realizing much money from their crops.

The cantaloupe crop will soon be ready and then green corn and water melons.

Five Involved In Two Cuttin' Scrapes

Five persons are involved in two cuttin' scrapes over the week end.

One Mexican is in a local hospital seriously wounded and the man who stabbed him is in jail.

Two white men and one woman are mixed up in the other case. One man is in a hospital and the other man and the woman are in jail.

Low fines are usually assessed in these cases and then only if agreed to by the offenders. A new system of handling criminal cases is in vogue in Milam county. Murder usually draws a suspended sentence, cuttings, stabbings, beatings, etc., draw $14 fines.

Arrests are made in some cases, in others not.

Last week an old man was beat over the head with a brick bat and his attacker was fined heavier in city court, $23.

T-Sgt. Edward O. Schiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schiller of Cameron, who has been stationed at Nichols General Hospital, Louisville, Ky., as a pharmacist for some time, was sent overseas more than a month ago and is some place in the Philippines area. His wife is now making her home here with his parents and her parents at Buckholts. T-Sgt. Schiller has been in service for nearly four years, making his home in Kentucky, where he was stationed.

Mrs. L. C. McBride of Dallas, was week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McIntosh, went to Rockdale for a few days visit with friends, and will return to Cameron for a more extended visit. The late L. C. McBride was a well known attorney here for a number of years. Mrs. McBride formerly was Miss Nettie Houghton and lived here for many years.

CENTENNIAL PLANS MADE FOR CAMERON

Cameron's centennial year will be 1946.

Plans have been made to set up a committee to arrange celebration of the city's one hundred years of an incorporated municipality. The city is older but was incorporated in 1846.

Many here have looked forward to a fitting observance. To do the job adequately much will be required. Finances will be necessary and experienced planning. It is not likely anything approaching a commensurate plan can be attained under present civic conditions in the city, but the event may not be entirely overlooked.

The Chamber of Commerce through its president A. W. McCullin, will soon announce a committee to be made up of representatives from all civic organizations in the city to plan a celebration in 1946.

Mr. McCullin has broached a subject that is of great interest to many and he deserves the co-operation of all.

AUSTRALIANS INVADE BORNEO ON SUNDAY

Borneo in the Dutch Indies was invaded Sunday by a division of Australian troops who went ashore on the northwest coast of the island with negligible opposition.

Before the invasion warships of the American fleet and American airmen struck the beach positions of the Japs and took a heavy toll in military personnel and installations. General Douglas MacArthur confirmed a previous Japanese report that the invasion was under way.

General Joseph Stilwell, commander of ground forces, in a statement in Manila said the war with Japan may last for two years.

The fighting, entering its final stage on Okinawa, was growing more bitter with the Japs caught in a small pocket but in extremely well fortified positions. It was estimated that some 15 thousand Japs are still on the island to be killed.

The American propaganda bid to the Jap people brought instant reaction in the Diet where the Premier, Kantaro Suzuki, said the nation would fight on to the end. If so the war against Japan will be won in the only way it should successfully conclude, extermination.

More and more air power was seen as the weapon to finish off the main islands.

Pvt. Glenn M. Rice Wins Boots and Wings

Pvt. Glenn M. Rice, grandson of B. G. Rice of Ben Arnold, has won the right to wear the "Boots and Wings" of the United States Army Paratroopers. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which time he made five jumps, the last a tactical jump at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Jumping at The Parachute School has steadily developed to a recognized war science. American Paratroopers have been recognized throughout the world for their meritorious actions against the enemy.

In addition to producing jumpers, Parachute Specialist Training is given to qualified men in Communications, Demolition, Riggers and Parachute Maintenance, vital skills for Airborne Troops.

Cecil V. Drake Receives Promotion

A NINTH AIR FORCE BOMBER BASE, Germany—The promotion of Cecil V. Drake, 22, of Cameron, Texas, to First Lieutenant was recently announced by the 397th Bombardment Group, famed as the "Bridge Busters"—the first B-26 Marauder group to be based inside Germany.

A pilot, Lt. Drake flew over 25 combat missions before V-E Day, as part of the Ninth Air Force's tactical bombing in co-operation with the ground forces—a combination of air and ground power that contributed in great measure to Germany's defeat. He has been awarded the Air Medal and 4 oak leaf clusters.

Lt. Drake entered the service on December 9, 1942, and arrived overseas on December 18, 1944. In civilian life, he was employed as a construction machine operator by the War Department in the Panama Canal zone. He graduated from Austin High School in 1940. His wife, Mrs. Ella A. Drake, lives at 401 N. Rusk, in Cameron.

INVASION OF JAPAN IS IMMINENT SAY NIPS

Complete American capture of Naha airdrome, a prime American objective in bloody Okinawa, was reported today (Thursday) by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz who said despite more rainfall and seas of mud doughboys and marines advance speedily against the last Japanese defense positions across the southern sector of the island.

The Japanese resisted fanatically as they were shoved into an area of about 20 square miles. Within this terrain the desperate Nipponese, their backs to the sea, face liquidation.

The Okinawa action, indicating that the final fight is close, overshadowed other developments in the vast Pacific-Asiatic war theatre.

In the Philippines American soldiers made two new invasions to seal up Davao gulf.

Chinese and American reports, lacking official confirmation, said the Chinese recaptured Liuchow, a keypoint in Japan's south China defenses.

On Okinawa the Sixth Marines knocked out cave positions to take over Naha airdrome and then drove southward to meet the First Marines hitting down the center of the island. The 96th Army division plunged southward to take hill positions while the Seventh division of doughboys were in complete control of Chien peninsula, an arm of Okinawa's best fleet anchorage. Naval guns aided the ground troops.

A few Japanese air raiders reached the Okinawa region. They damaged two U. S. fleet units. Five were shot down.

The agency Domei quoted the influential Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri Hochi as stating developments on Okinawa together with recently stepped up American air raids on the homeland were considered unquestionably significant of a direct invasion attempt against the Japanese mainland—in the near future.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

What about travel?

Now, you may naturally ask, "Won't it be a little easier to get accommodations?" ... "Won't it be a little more comfortable to travel?"

We of the Santa Fe would like to hold out some hope to our friends who have good reasons for taking a trip, but who find it difficult to do so.

We would like to give those who do travel all the little niceties of service that are part of the Santa Fe tradition.

Bigger Traffic Loads

The stubborn facts are that the traffic to our Pacific ports of war is stepping up instead of letting down!

This means, in the war days to come, there will be more passenger and freight traffic—new loads and greater loads and less space for civilian travelers than ever on Santa Fe rails.

In The Meantime

Santa Fe facilities have been enormously increased—bigger yards; more freight Diesels; centralized traffic control at key points; and improved shop tools and practices which keep our locomotives rolling.

In peacetime these increased facilities will enable us to provide better service than ever. But in the meantime, the stuff needed to lick Japan is top priority.

So—again we ask, "Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to serve you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?"

GEN. GEORGE PATTON GREETED BY MILLION

Boston, June 7.—Swashbuckling Gen. Geo. S. Patton, Jr., came home today to the screaming welcome of three-quarters of a million people, whose enthusiasm knocked out all reception time schedules.

It was a continual din from the moment he jumped from a huge army transport plane.

Army public relations officials estimated the welcoming crowds that lined the 20 mile route from Bedford airport to Boston at 750,000 and the estimates of unofficial observers hit the million mark.

Just as his record of achievement as head of the invincible third army read "ahead of schedule" for almost every operation he undertook, so Patton's transport plane touched the Bedford runway 20 minutes before it was slated to arrive.

But after that, there was no holding the schedule—the yelling crowds slowed it down.

As the side door of his plane opened at Bedford, the general's shiny four-starred helmet popped out. He didn't wait for the steps to be placed, jumped the foot or two to the unloading platform and strode across the 50 foot runway where Mrs. Patton, who had come up from the Patton farm at Hamilton waited.

He had been away two and one-half years and he doffed his helmet and kissed Mrs. Patton.

Then he turned to his son, George S. Patton, III, a West Point cadet who was given special leave to meet his father, and kissed him on the cheek. He then embraced his two daughters.

Patton and the 46 officers and men with him arrived in three transport planes escorted, as they reached Bedford airfield, by six Flying Fortresses.

JUNE BRIDE

MRS. JAMES M. MCCARTHY

Dorothy Evelyn Brown Becomes Bride of James M. McCarthy

Miss Dorothy Evelyn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Brown of Cameron and S-Sgt. James M. McCarthy, son of Mrs. Annette McCarthy of Oakland, Calif., were united in marriage June 3, 1945, at 9 a. m. at St. Monica's Catholic church in Cameron, with the pastor Father George J. Duda, performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white marquisette wedding gown. The neckline was boasted with white embroidered rosebuds. The full skirt terminated in to a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was fitted to the head with a tiara of the same material. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Frank Hanel played the wedding march. Mrs. Leo Laake sang the solo, "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Beatrice Michalka at the organ.

The brides mother was dressed in a two piece black suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Lillian Michalka, wore a dress of pink satin crepe covered with pink net.

The evidence was sustained on the ground that the arrest, search and seizure were illegal. The burglars were set free. The judge who discharged them was not responsible for this ridiculous protection of the criminals' alleged rights. He was merely following decisions that have been handed down by higher courts.

Neither the U. S. Constitution nor the state constitutions prohibit all arrests, searches and seizures without a warrant. Only unreasonable searches and seizures are prohibited. Nevertheless, the courts have been constantly placing limitations on the definition of "reasonable."

One of the most notorious gangsters in Chicago was Two-Gun Louis Alterie. After the gang slaying of his pal, Lion O'Banion, Alterie frequented various night spots, flourishing guns and challenging the killers of O'Banion to shoot it out. The police arrested him one night, with his gun cocked, ready for action. When he was brought into court, the judge castigated the officers. Disregarding the reputation of this gangster, the judge stated that citizens had to carry guns to protect their homes from robbers. Such judicial attitudes, besides immunizing the professional criminal, thoroughly demoralize the honest and efficient officers of the law.

We sometimes hear protestations that illogical jurisprudence of this kind is necessary to protect individual rights. We feel impelled to inquire, as did Judge John F. Perkins of the Boston Juvenile Court, "Which individual? The individual who breaks the law in reckless disregard of other people's safety, or the individual who is behaving himself as he should and is entitled to protection?"

A confession freely given affords highly credible testimony, the truth of which may be easily verified. On many occasions a culprit will fully confess upon the arrival of the arresting officer. Later he may deny that his confession was voluntary. It is ironic that courts frequently give his denial more credence than the officer's assertion. Mr. Justice Jackson of the U. S. Supreme Court recently spoke out against this unwarranted yet commonplace tendency. He said, "We know that police standards often leave much to be desired, but we are not ready to believe that the democratic process brings to office men generally less believable than the average of those accused of crime."

Apparently any device used to free a person accused of a crime is considered part of the criminal's natural rights. Witnesses against the accused are intimidated or mysteriously disappear. Dilatory tactics are pursued until the witnesses are worn out, disgusted, and made hostile. Defense counsel frequently look upon phony alibis as part of their stock in trade. If any of the numerous devices succeeds in defeating justice, the state is through. It has no right of appeal. With the defendant, the conviction is just the first phase of the proceeding.

There must be a distinction between the rights of an accused person and license. He does not have a right to have the people's witnesses intimidated or bribed. He has a right to a fair and impartial jury, not to a jury fixed in his behalf. The defendant has the right to have the truth brought out at a trial. He does not have a right to the exclusion of relevant and competent evidence. And he does not have a right to have all witnesses who testify against him harassed, humiliated and confused.

The Constitution prohibits unreasonable searches and seizures. The accused is not entitled to have a reasonable search declared unreasonable through absurd legal theorizing.

The person on trial is entitled to a fair administration of criminal justice. But that does not mean the one-sided system of criminal jurisprudence which we are gradually approaching.

Michalka-Matocha Marriage Rites Solemnized Here

Miss Mildred Michalka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Michalka, and Pvt. Paul S. Matocha, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Matocha of San Antonio, were married Sunday, June 10, 1945, at 9 a. m. at St. Monica's Catholic Church. Rev. Edward Matocha, cousin of the groom read the double ring ceremony, before an Altar decorated with pink gladiolas.

The bride wore a white crepe two-piece street length dress with a picture hat and white accessories. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gladiolas. The bride was attended by Miss Irene O'Neill as maid of honor, who was dressed in a dress of pastel pink with black accessories, and Miss Sue Kirk as bride's maid who wore an aqua dress with black accessories. They both carried bouquets of pink gladiolas.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The groom was attended by his brother, Boles Matocha, Jr., of Dallas, as best man. His groomsman was James Michalka, brother of the bride. T. J. and Jimmy O'Neill served as ushers.

The brides mother wore a two-piece navy blue dress, and a corsage of white carnations, and the groom's mother wore a black fuschia trimmed dress, with a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for the wedding party was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For going away the bride chose a two-piece pastel pink dress with black accessories.

The bride and groom left immediately for a short wedding trip to Austin and San Antonio. Mrs. Matocha will return to Cameron and resume her duties at the Office of Price Administration, and Pvt. Matocha will report back to his station at Camp Rucker.

GAS HEATING UNITS IN SMALL HOMES SAVE SPACE, CONSTRUCTION COSTS

The flexibility of gas equipment designed for heating the small house is one of the unique attributes of appliances using this fuel. A gas furnace may be located virtually anywhere in the house. Such flexibility coupled with imaginative engineering and new designs of furnaces permit two-way savings—in house space and in construction costs. Gas heating units available for homes after production can be resumed may be located in such various places as the attic, or under the floor, between walls, in the utility room, in a closet, or in the basement, provided there is a basement.

Unusual locations are permissible with specially designed gas heating units by virtue of the fact that gas heats with a low flame temperature. The surface temperature of the equipment also is lower than with other fuels, which means reduced fire hazard and less clearance.

The traditional chimney for the fireplace should be planned with a "thimble" or extra flue for venting floor furnaces.

House heating equipment using gas fuel operates quietly—wherever its location in the house; there are no mechanical noises and few, if any, moving parts to get out of order. Gas heat is truly automatic; it is clean without dust, ashes, soot or smoke. The furnace is lighted in the fall and turned off in the spring, requiring no further attention during the winter.

Ample Hot Water Is Essential Need In Modern Homes

Modern living standards in America demand a supply of hot water at uniformly correct temperatures between 130 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit available at any time of the day or night. At these temperatures, hot water provides the greatest usefulness for the upkeep of the home and the health and physical well-being as well as comfort of the family.

An automatic gas water heater provides the practical means for this standard of hot water service, and is the most popular equipment for the purpose because of its reliability and economy. Other methods of producing hot water require more labor or more service or may be more expensive; the cost of operation of a gas water heater is gauged by the amount of fuel required, depending upon the size of the home, the number of persons and the number of the hot water fixtures.

Vented Gas Heating Prevents Wall Sweating

Vented heating—heating by means of gas appliances connected to a flue—prevents wall sweating and stuffy, unhealthy air. The purpose of connecting appliances to a flue is to carry to the outside air the products of combustion resulting from burning fuel, thus preventing release of these products into the room. When an open flame unvented room heater is used, the burning gas combining with elements in the air, throws off water vapor and other products which are released into the room. This water vapor settles on windows, walls and furniture in cold weather.

The term "vented heaters" does

CP RANGE SYMBOL IS MARK OF SUPERIORITY

The symbol CP on a gas range means that the range was built by a manufacturer member of the Association of Gas Appliance and Equipment Manufacturers and meets the highest standards in performance, including the newest scientific developments. The CP seal seen on the ranges of 20 of the leading manufacturers is the only one of its kind in the major appliance field and is an authoritative buying guide.

Indoor Climate Control Assured Post-War Homes

The ultimate in atmospheric comfort throughout the year, long desired in the American home, will be provided by all-year gas air conditioning. Although production on a large scale awaits the reconversion period, several hundreds of these units already are in operation, some in homes and business houses on Lone Star lines.

Gas air conditioning equipment is installed complete in one simple unit, with an ease and simplicity of operation which is an especial virtue. The unit cools sultry air and removes humidity in summer; and in winter it warms the cold air as well as humidifies it to provide a healthful atmosphere.

In between-seasons when a moderate temperature is required, the unit gently ventilates the house with clean air. Thus any occupant of the home may control the indoor climate at will by simply throwing a tiny electric switch on the thermostat. Outside noise and dirt are kept out, so the house is cleaner and quieter; windows may be kept permanently closed and locked—an insurance against prowlers.

During every season the air circulated by this gas unit is cleaned by a special filter arrangement which removes irritating dust and pollen. Homes thus air conditioned are more comfortable, particularly for those who suffer from distressing respiratory ailments. Rugs, draperies, furnishings, interior finishes of walls and woodwork retain their freshness longer, require cleaning infrequently.

not mean any particular make of appliance, but refers to a method of heating. There are various kinds of vented gas heating equipment, such as the following modern types: Circulating heaters, gaseous radiators, floor furnaces, central furnaces, and the all-year gas air-conditioner.

Since vented heat requires flues, Lone Star Gas Company engineers recommend house heating be planned as part of house.

New Freedom Gas Kitchen Saves Labor

The post-war kitchen will literally take the drudgery out of cooking. The "New Freedom Gas Kitchen," which the gas industry is developing with support of Lone Star Gas Company, is a packaged kitchen which will contain a gas range, gas refrigerator, sink and cabinets. It will be ventilated for coolness in summer and warmth in winter, and cooking odors will be removed.

The "New Freedom Gas Kitchen" will occupy a relatively small area, and yet combine a maximum of utility, efficiency and charm. A cozy breakfast nook will easily seat a family of four or five in light and cheery comfort. A modern Certified Performance gas range will do the housewife's bidding quickly and automatically, and a silent gas refrigerator will be the dependable custodian of food and provide interesting frozen delicacies that will make meals an event.

Either within the kitchen or close by will be an automatic water heater which will give ample quantities of hot water almost instantly available.

A colorful floor covering and the just-right combination of colors for walls and ceiling will add a final touch of beauty to an easy-to-work-in kitchen.

Laboratory Seal Is Buyer's Guide

A reliable and authoritative national guide in the purchase of gas appliances and accessories is the seal of approval of the American Gas Association Testing Laboratories, which has distinguished appliances of merit for many years. Lone Star Gas Company is a member of the association contributing to the work of the Laboratories. Seen on superior gas ranges, the seal is a mark of established standards and certifies to the durability, safety and efficiency of the range which has passed more than 529 tests.

PERFECTIONS IN COOKING SERVICES ARE FORECAST FOR NEW GAS RANGES

Many improvements and perfectations in cooking services will mark the first gas ranges off the assembly lines after production can be resumed. Six months after steel and other materials are allocated for consumer appliance production, some finished ranges will be on the market, according to manufacturers. Homemakers who have purchased bonds for new gas ranges after the war can look forward to simplified top burner cooking, with speed more than ever an important factor. Multiflame top burners of pre-war ranges were designed in standard size, and in giant size for quantity cooking where a wider flame spread is needed for large utensils. Since 80 per cent of the cooking is done on top burners, designers of tomorrow's ranges hint that there may be a wider variety of sizes—such as simmering burners and several other sizes adapted to special cooking needs.

One of the achievements in top burners will be more even distribution of heat, due to new burner designs. This will mean the elimination of hot spots, sometimes unavoidable even at simmering temperatures—an improvement which will be welcomed by all cooks.

Grates or utensil supports on top burner section will be designed to reduce tipping of utensils. The new style grates also will make for easier cleaning and smarter appearance. Postwar models may be more generally equipped with integral griddles, special cookers and warming ovens; as auxiliary sections these may have thermostatic control of temperature and automatic ignition, thus furthering the simplification of cooking.

Gas Refrigerators Will Have Several New Conveniences

Homemakers living in small homes and apartments in urban areas with little need to do home-freezing of foods, will be more interested in the availability of a wide variety of commercially frozen foods in postwar refrigerators.

Considerable thought has been given by designers of gas refrigerators, the refrigerators which operate without moving parts, to the storage of frozen foods and plenty of space can be expected. There will also be improved ice freezing performance as well.

Complete new convenience in arrangement of all food storage within the refrigerator will be the result of improved design. Among many features, all shelves will be sliding for location at various positions. Plenty of space will be available for everything in foods requiring refrigeration at healthful, constant low temperature.

Huge Tax Levy Equals $2.40 for Each Gas Bill

Lone Star Gas Company pays more than 55 different kinds and types of taxes. The tax for 1944 was equal to $2.40 for each gas bill rendered every month. For the last year the company paid out 29 cents in taxes for every dollar of operating revenue taken in. The government takes, in the form of taxes, more than twice as much as the common stockholders receive. The tax expense for the year amounted to $1.54 per share of stock. This was equal to about 63 per cent of the net earnings, leaving only 40 per cent for the owners of the company. Lone Star Gas Company must operate for 126 days to pay its taxes. That is, all of the gross operating revenue for more than four months goes to taxes.

FROZEN FOOD LOCKER MEAT IS POINT FREE

Frozen Food Locker owners have been told that meat slaughtered by them for their own use will require points. This is not true and OPA is not responsible for this error.

Some confusion has resulted from this report. W. H. Lawrence of the Cameron Ice & Cold Storage Company, has issued a correction on the meat situation as it applies to lockers.

Meat slaughtered by anyone for their own use is point free. This applies to animals raised by the owners or to animals which may be purchased and conditioned for slaughter. Some locker storage renters have hesitated to use their lockers but they need delay no longer.

M-Sgt. Joe R. Walzel Honored With Dinner

On Sunday, June 3, 1945, a dinner was given at the lovely Country Home of Mrs. Joe Walzel in honor of her son, M-Sgt. Joe R. Walzel, who recently returned from the European Theatre of operations. This is M-Sgt. Walzel's first visit home in three years. He had been overseas since October 1941.

The table was laid with a beautiful hand-made tablecloth and centered with a low bowl of spring flowers. Other places of interest in the home were also decorated with spring flowers.

The main dinner course consisted of fried chicken with all the trimmings, with pie-a-la-mode as the desert.

Those present for the dinner were: M-Sgt. Walzel and his mother, Mrs. Joe Walzel; and the following brothers and sisters: Frank Walzel, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Huebner and daughter, Laurita, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Walzel and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Krull and LaVerne, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Richter and family.

There was only one member of the family absent, Miss Dorothy Heubner of Houston who was unable to attend. M-Sgt. Walzel is home for thirty days, after which he will be transferred to California for a rest period.

A baby boy, Thomas Edward, was born on Saturday, June 2, 1945 to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Moody. The baby weighed 8 pounds and five ounces and was born at Newton Memorial Hospital. The father, Electrician 3rd Class, is in the United States Navy and is now serving in the South Pacific. Thomas Edward is their second son. The mother is the former Miss Mary Tom Stidham.

Mrs. Johnnie Bunt and children of Houston are spending a few days in Cameron with relatives.

Mrs. Delia Lewis has received word from her son, Sgt. Joe N. Lewis, he was wounded in action in Europe, April 26, has been evacuated to the United States.

PROPOSING an amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part thereof, or the United States Maritime Service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of, a poll tax in order to vote at any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter; providing that members of the regular Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States shall not be permitted to vote; providing that other members of the armed forces shall be entitled to vote under certain conditions; providing the form of the ballot for voting on said proposed amendment; fixing the time for holding an election; directing the Governor to issue the necessary proclamations; and making an appropriation.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. There shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Texas the matter of amending Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, by adding thereto a new section which will modify the present restrictions concerning voting. This new section shall be inserted between Section 2 and Section 3 of said Article VI, and shall read as follows:

"Section 2a. Nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to require any person, who at the time of the holding of an election hereinafter referred to is, or who, within eighteen months immediately prior to the time of holding any such election was a member of the armed forces of the United States or of the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part of such armed forces or Armed Force Reserve, or the United States Maritime Service or the United States Merchant Marine, and who is otherwise a qualified voter under the laws and Constitution of this State, to pay a poll tax or to hold a receipt for any poll tax assessed against him, as a condition precedent to his right to vote in any election held under the authority of the laws of this state, during the time the United States is engaged in fighting a war, or within one year after the close of the calendar year in which said war terminated.

"PROVIDED, however, that the foregoing provisions of this section do not confer the right to vote upon any person who is a member of the regular establishment of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps; and provided further, that all persons in the armed forces of the United States, or the component branches thereof, not members of the regular establishment of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, are hereby declared not to be disqualified from voting by reason of any provision of sub-section "Fifth" of Section 1, of this Article."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state on August 25, 1945, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following:

"FOR the amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part thereof, or of the United States Maritime Service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of a poll tax in order to vote at any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter."

THOSE OPPOSED to such amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the following:

"AGAINST the amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, providing that any person in the armed forces of the United States, or the Armed Force Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part thereof or of the United States Maritime service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within eighteen months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of, a poll tax in order to vote at any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamations relating to the publication of the foregoing Resolution, in the various counties of the state, and shall cause the same to be published as required by the statutes and the Constitution in connection with the submission of proposed amendments to the Constitution, to the people for their action at a statewide election. If it shall appear from the returns of the election at which the foregoing amendment to the Constitution is voted upon that a majority of the qualified voters have voted for said amendment, same shall then become a part of the Constitution of Texas.

Sec. 4. ☆ The Straight Story on Repairing Farm Equipment

Our first responsibility is to stand by the Allis-Chalmers equipment we have sold in years past. We know that old machinery must continue to operate for another year in spite of everything, but it will take planning and close figuring on the part of everyone if we are to handle the heavy volume of repair work ahead.

We are up against a difficult problem in arranging for all this extra work. If you find several others waiting ahead, you will know the reason why.

Here's what we suggest:

Schedule Your Repairing Ahead of Time

Stop in or phone us before you bring in your machine. We'll do our best to schedule your job through our shop so it will be ready when you need it. If you delay until the last minute, there is danger of a tie-up on repairs that could hold up your field work.

Be early. Give us time to do a careful job. By working together and planning ahead, everyone will be taken care of.

A FEW USEFUL REMINDERS ABOUT IMPLEMENTS

1. Plow and bedder bottoms, cultivator shovels and sweeps should be coated with a non-corrosive grease when not in use to prevent rusting.
2. Life will be much more pleasant for you if you will always remember to remove all commercial fertilizer from hoppers at the end of each working day.
3. A dull sickle on a mowing machine requires twice as much power to drive and may cause early failure of parts if not sharpened regularly.

66,324 JAPS KILLED ON OKINAWA ISLAND

Tank-paced divisions of the U. S. 10th army, boosting Japanese killed on Okinawa to 66,324, thrust into the rugged last stand area of the enemy in the island Friday and made a new amphibious landing as Tokyo radio warned the homeland the B-29s are ready to hit the smaller cities. Strategic conferences in Manila and stepped up air assaults on Northwest Borneo, meanwhile, posed other menaces to Nippon.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced in today's communique from Guam that 10th army elements have driven more than a mile below Naha airfield in a move to free that newly captured base from Japanese artillery fire. The field is fast being developed by engineers to send planes against Japan, a little over 300 miles to the North.

The new death toll of the enemy, counted through June 6, added approximately 5,000 in the past week.

Other American forces on Okinawa pushed toward the southern tip into the fortified area of the Yaeju-Dake escarpment. Improving weather permitted more extensive use of both planes and tanks in the closing phase of the 69-day-old campaign.

The new landing was achieved by the Seventh Infantry division on O Shima off the southeast coast of Okinawa south of the base of Chinen peninsula.

Tokyo radio said the B-29s have carefully reconnoitered the medium and small cities of Japan in preparation to give them the same fiery treatment already visited upon Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya and Yokohama.

Already, the Japanese said, American warplanes were crowding into Okinawa's other landing strip and they blamed them for harassing raids against Southern Japan in which propaganda leaflets as well as bombs were dropped.

Pvt. Alton L. Fowler With Honored Group

WITH THE 321ST BOMB GROUP IN ITALY—At a V-E Day ceremony the 321st B-25 Mitchell Bomb Group of the 12th Air Force was presented its second War Department citation, highest honor attainable by a combat unit, and among those sharing the honor is Pvt. Alton L. Fowler, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Fowler, Cameron.

The official citation published in Washington lauds the B-25 unit for an attack against shipping off Toulon harbor three days following the invasion of Southern France. The giant battleship "Starasbourg," cruiser "La Galissannerie" and a submarine had been moved into position to use their heavy guns against the Allied invading forces. In one smashing attack Mitchell bombers of the 321st sent all three warships to the bottom, an unprecedented feat in medium bombing annals.

One of the oldest bomb groups overseas, the 321st began combat in March, 1945, and played a major role in bringing about the defeat of the German armies in Italy. In 897 missions the 321st sent more than 18,000 Mitchell bombers to attack the enemy in Tunisia, the Mediterranean islands, Italy, the Balkans, France and Austria.

Lt. Harold O. Miller, who is officially credited with killing Germany's "Destert Fox," Marshall Rommel, is an instructor at Majors Field, Greenville, Texas.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

S. J. R. No. 8
PROPOSING an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for a Supreme Court of nine members; prescribing their qualifications; and providing for their election, tenure of office and compensation.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 2 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

"Article 5. Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case; provided, that when the business of the court may require, the court may sit in sections as designated by the court to hear argument of causes and to consider applications for writs of error or other preliminary matters. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this state, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty-five years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer and judge of a court of record together at least ten years. Said Justices shall be elected (three of them each two years) by the qualified voters of the state at a general election; shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified; and shall each receive such compensation as shall be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of any Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for state officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the state. The Justices of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The Judges of the Commission of Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall become Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and each shall continue in office as such Associate Justice of the Supreme Court until January 1st next preceding the expiration of the term to which he has been appointed and until his successor shall be elected and qualified."

Sec. 2. Said proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1945, at which election each voter opposing said proposed amendment shall scratch off the ballot with a pen or pencil the following words printed on said ballot:

"FOR the amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Supreme Court of nine members."

And each voter favoring said proposed amendment shall scratch off the ballot in the same manner the following words printed on said ballot:

"AGAINST the amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Supreme Court of nine members."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published and said election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

THE Actual Science of Prayer

That Prayer—for safety, health, usefulness, happy relationships, progress, satisfaction or any other legitimate achievement or condition—can be a scientific as well as a religious experience, and therefore unfailing in its results, is clearly shown in Christian Science.

Through growing understanding of such prayer, or treatment increasing numbers of Christian Scientists in many countries are proving its value and thus are seeing the fulfillment of the Scriptural assurance, "Ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full."

The complete explanation of Christian Science and its healing and enriching prayer is given in the Christian Science textbook,

By GRAHAM HUNTER

GEN. EISENHOWER GETS WARM LONDON GREETING

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Texts born supreme commander of the Allied armies, returned to London Monday from the continent and received a tumultuous welcome from the people of the British capital.

It was the first time General Eisenhower had been in London since he followed his armies into France a year ago.

He became one of six Americans to receive the freedom of the city, a ceremony of great pomp and splendor. For ten minutes at White Hall he spoke with a plea for the same understanding in peace that had been shown in war. If, he said, the welcome given him was for the men who had won the war, he would feel greatly pleased.

On the same platform Winston Churchill, the British Prime minister, told the people of London they had heard the words of a great commander who had led more men into battle than any other man in history. The Prime Minister paid General Eisenhower the compliment of being the one man whose voice inspired men to fight as well as nations to cooperate.

In Washington the government was arranging a reception the like of which has never been witnessed in the history of the nation.
